The Office of Community Engagement and Outreach (OCEO) is excited to launch a new initiative, Imagine Tennessee. It is designed to harness the research and scholarly activity of faculty and students for the benefit of the state’s citizens. The two-year, interdisciplinary research and engaged scholarship pilot program will solicit projects to advance multi-faceted solutions to our state’s most pressing challenges. A call for projects opens April 1.

An interactive ArcGIS map was created to illustrate the reach of engagement and outreach projects across the state and beyond. Geographic Information Systems (GIS) software has many spatial capabilities. Stakeholders can click on stick pins to view project summaries.

Community Connect Portal
The OCEO collaborated with the Center for Leadership and Service, Center for Career Development, and Teaching and Learning Innovation to develop a platform designed to assist community organizations in connecting with campus offices to establish partnerships involving faculty and students. The tool is designed to gather and help direct information to offices on campus that are best suited to meeting their needs. It is intended to share the types of resources and opportunities available to prospective partners through selected offices, including opportunities for faculty research, student volunteers, service-learning, interns, student employees, and other partnerships.
